

AFTERNOON TEA AT OLD MILL TORONTO

The Old Mill Tea Garden, established by Home Smith on the first day of World War I, acted as a community hub, where residents gathered and exchanged news during the war.

At Old Mill Toronto, the tradition of Afternoon Tea, dating back to 1914, is honoured with a touch of modern sophistication. Guests are invited to relish the timeless art of sipping tea and savouring exquisite bites in an ambiance that pays homage to history. Our Afternoon Tea menu offers a harmonious blend of classic elements and innovative twists, ensuring that every palate is delighted.

Partaking in Afternoon Tea is immersing yourself in a centuries-old ritual that beautifully celebrates moments shared with loved ones, where the true magic lies not just in the culinary presentation but also in the art of conversation and connection.
